

Beautiful Ashes

Eowyn

Tears of anger
While you wonder why can't I just start again
Devastation burns and plunders
Empty dreams and promises
It's too late for digression (mindless wandering)
It's too late dont you know

You're beautiful though you're ashes
You'll not waste away
So beautiful let your eyes see life with scars
Not decay

Fire rages
Faith is crumbled tragically yet love remains
Restoration built on ruins hope still lingers in this place

It's too late for digression (mindless wandering)
It's too late dont you know

You're beautiful though you're ashes
You'll not waste away
So beautiful let your eyes see life with scars
Not decay

When the darkness overwhelms you
And you feel like no one cares
Do not fear
There is a god who loves you
And he is taking your hands

You're beautiful though you're ashes
You'll not waste away
So beautiful let your eyes see life with scars
Not decay
Not decay
You're beautiful

Though you're ashes you're beautiful
