

More Than Yesterday

Eowyn

You whispered in your cell
The things you said you'd never tell a soul as long as breath
Escaped from your lips
This sentence has been placed
By you you can't erase
The years of doubt you tried to hide
Behind your secret lies (you're safe)

Your silence screams your pain
A deafened heart remains
A tragedy to say the least
But justice will reside
You've tried to plead your case
Establishing a trace of sanity, immunity, a vital alibi
(You're safe)

Cause here in this place
You will see extraordinary things
More than yesterday
When you seek you will find
When you knock the doors will open wide
More than yesterday

No one can prove you wrong
A skeptic you've become
You live, you die, you bruise again
But healing can be reached
Another bled and died
The suffering subsides
Displaying love eternally
Eternally alive

Cause here in this place
You will see extraordinary things
More than yesterday
When you seek you will find
When you knock the doors will open wide
More than yesterday

You'll feel a stirring deep within
The moment you draw near
A love so profound
You'll never look back again
You'll feel his love

Cause here in this place
You will see extraordinary things
More than yesterday
When you seek you will find
When you knock the doors will open wide
More than yesterday

More then yesterday
(You're safe)
