

Beneath The Smooth Veil Of Shadows

Ephel Duath

I am a dark river inside your veins I flow from pain and sorrow I grow

Look at your dark side break chains wich have tied your mind for centuries...

Let your spirit rise Time to fight is coming Come to see the last twilight of the earth

Land of sorrow let me enter your realm where flowers caress my face consumed by flames
The fire of evil burns my human flesh

Beneath the smooth veil of shadows
my spirit at last is awake once again the majesty of nocturnal sky urges my thoughts to skim over depths of space

And I fly beyond stars
learning sense of existence

And I fly beyond stars
learning sense of existence
now life and death are same

Vain races where fools subjected by ignorance follow precepts against nature missing the ancient essence of purity they curse my name but what will they become?
Only dust

I am a dark rive

Tonight I will make my solemn oath I will take my strength from the fire of the sun and the water of the deepest abyss

I will raise my eyes upon this world hearing the silent wall of trees caressed by nocturnal winds

Beneath the smooth veil of shadows
my spirit at last is awake once again the majority of nocturnal sky urges my thoughts to skim over depths of space