Universal Love Squad

We are the ones to change the world now Still in control of all machinery We claim the right to pull the trigger and damage your image of honor Inventing Improving Creating Existence Embrace the technological remedy Robotic legions, stand in line to carry out The retribution and effects of this advanced technology New inventions have to pay To fight their way To judgement day We are the ones that rule the world now You are entrapped by blind inanity There is no way that you'll revoke your decision Now look for distraction Inventing Improving Creating Existence Embrace the technological elegy Robotic legions, stand in line to carry out The retribution and effects of this advanced technology New inventions have to pay To fight their way To judgement day I am forever the snake devouring its tail In search of eternity Robotic legions, stand in line to carry out The retribution and effects of this advanced technology New inventions have to pay To fight their way To judgement day