

Gnosis

Equilibrium

Look around you and don't act blind
Foolish people with empty minds
Look around you and see them crying
A pleasure to watch? Cause they are dying!

We'll turn the world on fire
With the lights of ancient flames
We are gods, convey us prayers
Yet gnosis will remain

We'll bring you pain and chaos
With promise of new lives
New worlds, new times arise
Gnosis alone remains

Beneath the surface, secrets hide
Within the crowd, their tears they bide
Masked emotions, they deny
In their solitude, they silently cry

We'll turn the world on fire
With the lights of ancient flames
We are gods, convey us prayers
Yet gnosis will remain

We'll bring you pain and chaos
With promise of new lives
New worlds, new times arise
Gnosis alone remains

The world is turning, the world is burning
The world is turning, the world is burning
The world is turning, the world is burning
The world is turning, the world is burning

We'll turn the world on fire
With the lights of ancient flames
We are gods, convey us prayers
Yet gnosis will remain

We'll bring you pain and chaos
With promise of new lives
New worlds, new times arise
Gnosis alone remains
