

I'll Be Thunder

Equilibrium

Today I start my ride
To where I've never been
A spark of pure rebellion
My heartbeat is pounding!

I'm leaving now this path to explore my inner light
In the darkness of the night, I'll discover what is right
I hear the eagle crying, it calls me to the sky
So now I will stop lying to myself and fly!

Dancing with the shadows
Singing to the rain
Screaming in the silence
The melody that will remain

The world is just a stage
And I've been playing roles
But now I crave to feel alive
My heartbeat is pounding!

Dancing with the shadows
Singing to the rain
Screaming in the silence
The melody that will remain

I've shed the mask that kept me down
Now I am free to wear my crown
No longer I stay under
From now on I'll be thunder
