

Shelter

Equilibrium

Why are you throwing words like fate
When you're just playing devil's advocate
Why are you hoping for an exit gate
I know you! For heavens sake!

Come, come, come closer
Come, come, come here
Come, come, come closer
Come, come, come here

You're in my mind! You're in my flesh!
You're all I am! You're my distress!
We are standing on the edge with you

We are the colors when you dream in dark blue
We are standing on the edge with you
We are your shelter when the world turns anew

Your words, sharp like knives
Don't distinguish moral with devise
Head strong, you've lived through many lives
It's always the wisest who survives

Come, come, come closer
Come, come, come here
Come, come, come closer
Come, come, come here

You're in my mind! You're in my flesh!
You're all I am! You're my distress!

We!
We will rise as one!
We will, we will rise as one!
We will rise as one!

We are standing on the edge with you
We are the colors when you dream in dark blue
We are standing on the edge with you
We are your shelter when the world turns anew

We'll be eternal stories while you sing with us
And we will walk with you those almighty paths
We'll be eternal stories while you sing with us
And we will walk with you those almighty paths
