Imagination

Erasure

What do you do with yourself When you see the storm clouds rising Feeling alone with yourself As the sun fades away

The memories come to and fro
The trouble is they never want to go
They come never go

It's just your imagination rolling over the past It can change your mind completely It's just my imagination running wild and too fast But I know it won't defeat me

Look into the eyes of medusa And she'll turn your world to stone She'll tear at your eyes and seduce you And your soul will be gone

The messages and hidden dreams
Of former lives and lovers never seen
A love never seen

It's just your imagination rolling over the past It can change your mind completely It's just my imagination running wild and too fast But I know it won't defeat me

What do you do with yourself When your lost on some horizon Taking a hold on yourself When you know the timings wrong

It's just your imagination rolling over the past It can change your mind completely It's just my imagination running wild and too fast But I know it won't defeat me
