

Don't You Know

Eric Bellinger

I see you sitting there all alone,
All alone.
Why you look so sad?
You spent the whole night staring at a silent phone,
He must've hurt you bad.

What kind of guy would let you down?
I'm the kind of guy that would stick around.
Girl I don't understand,
Just say the word and I'll be yours.
I'll be everything you've waited for,
All I need is a chance.

Don't you know,
You're beautiful?
Girl you steal the show, everytime
That you hit the floor.
It's incredible, undeniable,
You should know.
You would if you were my girl.
You would if you were my momma, girl.
You would if you were my girl.
Don't you know?
Don't you know?
Don't you know?

I finally got the nerve to come and approach you,
Would you like to dance?
I would never do anything he's done to you,
So take my hand, oh!

What kind of guy would let you down?
I'm the kind of guy that would stick around.
Girl I don't understand,
Just say the word and I'll be yours.
I'll be everything you've waited for,
All I need is a chance.

Don't you know,

You're beautiful?
Girl you steal the show, everytime
That you hit the floor.
It's incredible, undeniable,
You should know.
You would if you were my girl.
You would if you were my momma, girl.
You would if you were my girl.
Don't you know?
Don't you know?
Don't you know?

Don't you wanna know?
Don't you wanna smile again?
You gotta let him go,
So you can let me in, ey!

Don't you know,
You're beautiful?
Girl you steal the show, everytime
That you hit the floor.
It's incredible, undeniable,
You should know.
You would if you were my girl.
You would if you were my momma, girl.
You would if you were my girl.
Don't you know?
Don't you know?
Don't you know?
You would if you were my girl.
