

Right Time

Eric Benét

There in my seclusion
I kept my feelings all to myself
I couldn't be heard again
If I never let them in, hooo
But somethin' 'bout your voice, girl, is telling me
It's about time I live, well
I never knew love before
But this might be my last chance to know

It don't feel too fast, it don't feel too slow
You just can't describe when you know, you know
It's the right time to fall in love

(Hoo) I think of you as sanctuary
You're the one thing in life that makes sense
(All of the noise just fades) Hmmm, oh yeah
Whenever you touch my face, hooo
I tried with other lovers
But there's a place that no one could find
You better believe I've tried
But your touch is the one thing that's given me life

It don't feel too fast, it don't feel too slow
You don't have to force it when you just know
It's the right time to fall in love
You don't have to plead, you don't have to cry
Once we let go and let love decide
It's the right time to fall

Don't even speak on forever
And don't say that you'll never change
Oh because
Sometimes the rain falls
Sometimes we grow in our own different ways
I will remind ya, just how we found each other

We don't move too fast, we don't move too slow
We learn from each lesson and grow we'll know
It's the right time to fall in love, in love
We don't have to plead, we don't have to cry
Once we let go and let love decide
It's the right time to fall
The right time to fall
The right time to fall

We don't have to beg, we don't have to cry
When it's the right
The right time to fall
In love
