Fatdaddy

Eric Johnson

1
Fat daddy, bring it home to me
Fat daddy, bring it home to me
Yes I'm blue and cold, and in misery
I've been a-walkin' around all day, lookin' for ya baby
I've been walkin' 'round all day, lookin' for you, sweet thing
I walked the streets 'til my feet got sore
Cried and cried, I can't cry no more
Fat daddy, bring it home to me
2
Fat daddy, you've been gone so long
Fat daddy, you've been gone so long
Yes I found out, that I done you wrong
I've been a-walkin' around all day, lookin' for ya baby
I've been walkin' 'round all day, lookin' for you, sweet thing
I got men who are younger, and handsome too

But they just don't move me like you do
Fat daddy, please come back to me
(bridge)
I need your lovin' every night
I need your arms to hold me tight
You're fat and forty and over the hill
But you're my meat and I love ya still
Fat daddy, bring it home to me
Cuz I'm blue and cold, and in misery
BREAK:
Say Long John claims to be your pal
But he been tryin' to steal your gal
Told Long John to his face:
(There) ain't no man (who) can take your place
Fat daddy, bring it home to me
Cuz I'm blue and cold, and in misery!
