

Only a Moment

Eric Martin

Jenny's shaking feathers
At the local skin bar
She's a looker when she wants to be
Makes a little extra
When it's after hours
She does what she has to
To make ends meet
Somewhere in the beer and loathing
She'll find her real prince charming
Every life, waits for the moment
A shining light, a saving grace
We all know it's only a moment away
There's a dude with hair like Elvis
And he's working in the kitchen
His english is shakey but he looks you in the eye
He's got the hots for Jenny, and he puts up his Antenna
She don't even know he's alive
She castes a giant shadow
His aim is straight and arrow
Every life, waits for the moment
A shining light, a saving grace
We all know it's only a moment away
Pin your hopes on a silver lining
A stroke of luck and a little timing
Every life, waits for the moment
A shining light, a saving grace
We all know it's only a moment away
