

Admit

Eric Nam

It's way too quiet in the morning
Take a drive to drown out the sound
I don't know where I'm going
Chase the light 'til the stars comes out

Ooh
If I keep moving, then I could lose ya
Ooh
I don't wanna face the truth
But I think I need ya

More than I'd like to admit
'Cause you got deeper
Than anyone else ever did

When the storm rolled out
And the rain came down
Swore you'd be a face I'd forget
But I can't unsee it
And now I need ya
More than I'd like to admit

Packed up all your belongings
Tried my best to make you disappear
But my best ain't doing it for me
It still feels like you're living here

Ooh
Feelings change
But your fingerprints remain
Ooh
It's not what I want to do
But I think I need ya

More than I'd like to admit
'Cause you got deeper

When the storm rolled out
And the rain came down
Swore you'd be a face I'd forget
But I can't unsee it
And now I need ya
More than I'd like to admit
