

What If

Eric Nam

My pride gets in the way sometimes
It had me biting my tongue when you said goodbye
My fault I let you out my life
I needed time to cool off
Don't wanna let this slide

I wanna make this right
When I'm missing you every night
I feel it sink in
And I start thinking

What if you're the only one that I ever needed
What if I had stopped you
When you said you were leaving
No, won't let you go

What if this is something that I'll never get over
Talking to my friends and they're all saying
I told you so
Can't let you go

I wanna make this right
Tell you all the things
I know I shoulda told you
When you were closer
'Cause I keep thinking

What if you're the only one that I ever needed
What if I had stopped you
When said you were leaving
No, can't let you go

I can't help but wonder where your head and heart is
Maybe that's the reason why I'm scared of calling
Oh, did you find someone new?
Or do you still miss it too?
But if I'm being honest

I wanna make this right
When I'm missing you every night
I feel it sink in
And I start thinking

What if you're the only one that I ever needed
What if I had stopped you
When you said you were leaving
No, won't let you go

Talking to my friends and they're all saying
I told you so
Can't let you go

Tell you all the things
When you were closer

'Cause I keep thinking

What if you're the only one that I ever needed

What if I had stopped you

When you said you were leaving

No, can't let you go

Maybe that's the reason why I'm scared of calling
