

Lost in a Song

Eric Paslay

Lights are down and the crowd is waiting
The band is ready for a serenade
The moment's right and the room is ready
So you step out on the stage

You play it cool standing in the spotlight
You play it cold and your heart pours out
You close your eyes cause you're in the moment
There's no turning back now

And another star is born
And another star smiles down
As the crowd starts singing along
Oh, oh, oh, oh
You're as high as you'll ever be
Right where you belong
Finding heaven in a melody
When you're lost in a song

A faded suit sitting in the fifth row
Gives a wink as he starts to smile
Because it wasn't very long ago
He was the chosen child

And another star is born
And another star smiles down
As the crowd starts singing along
Oh, oh, oh, oh
You're as high as you'll ever be
Right where you belong
Finding heaven in a melody
When you're lost in a song

Oh, oh, oh
Oh, oh, oh
Oh, oh, oh
Oh, oh, oh
Oh, oh, oh
Oh, oh, oh

And another star is born
And another star smiles down
As the crowd starts singing along
Oh, oh, oh, oh
You're as high as you'll ever be
Right there's where you belong
Finding heaven in a melody
When you're lost in a song
