

You say I do this shit on purpose
And I ain't have to pay for my dream with yo tears 'cause it ain't worth it
And I ain't had to cut off a single fuckin' person
And I ain't had to go ahead and be this fuckin' burden
'Cause if I stayed inside a office that'd be all you'd ever wanted
Just knowin' I had safety 'cause those people all got it
To be honest
That life has the same amount of problems
Not to mention I'm just worth more than workin' for a boss and that's the truth
'Cause I been shiftin' paradigms since a fuckin' youth
And I been slavin' on my shit while they was skippin' school
I swear they goals switch up more times than they mood
I'm sorry that it's selfish but its what I gotta do
And these days all the pressure takin' hold of me
Jaw clenched lookin' like I'm Morissey
Knowin' there be more to me but some how I be mortified
Writin' all my wrongs so I'm always havin' more to write

I know
You're not alone
Alone
Alone
I know what it takes
I know what it takes, to be ok
To be ok
I know what it takes
I know what it takes, to be ok
(To be ok)

Lately I be lone asking what's this all for Winter time they be baggin' hoes like it's a Jan sport
I could act my age and maybe go and just relax more
But it be fuckin' dumb to question everything I asked for
And now we finally gon' do this shit big
And I can't have no girl go blame it on the way that I live
Maybe 'cause I'm isolated this one stuck in my head
She ain't no thot but it could be just how the memory is
I still remember the hips
And I ain't mean to waste time reminiscin' and shit
But this is all that I get
'Cause we the best fuckin' thing that ain't come to exist
That shit was corny but it had to be said yea she my brown hair blue eyed chick
And she one I ain't know I'd get
Fuck the punch lines she be why I broke my fist
From punchin' walls and shit
'Cause that regrets a bitch
And we not talkin' so I guess I'll go and tell her with this

She got
Somethin' I don't need
That's jealousy
That's jealousy

And she got
Somethin' I don't need

That's jealousy
That's jealousy
