Got your message, said, "We're leaving right now" (Right now)
You was hopin' that I wouldn't find out (Wouldn't find out)
Didn't know for sure, but know I had my doubts (Yeah-yeah, yeah)
And now the night's strung out, baby, you'll just end up

Dancin' with somebody, please never remind me
That one point in my life I ever wanted you by me
She pretty, but she conniving, giant waste of my timin'
Always leaving me crying, some reason I like it (Baby, you'll just end up)
Dancin' with somebody, please never remind me
That one point in my life I ever wanted you by me
She pretty, but she conniving, giant waste of my timin'
Always leaving me crying, some reason I like it

Truth be told, I ain't doing too well
Oh no, girl, I don't need your help
My brain feel dead, can't believe myself
You can't use me just to please yourself
I tried to hide from the truth
I end up hiding from you
I'll jump through hurdles, do circles
But you won't give me a clue
But that's all from me
Heard you got somethin' you could offer me
Bad reputation, heard awful things
I'ma just end up grovelin' (Oh, no)
Better let me pop my shit
DOA, no stoppin' him
No, me and you not lockin' in
You can watch how quick we turn to friends

The life you're involved in, I'm never an option
The loss of your love's just a nail in the coffin
I was careful, I was cautious, your presence is a toxin
I knew it when you walked in, baby, you'll just end up

Dancin' with somebody, please never remind me
