

I can't keep crying
Dying

Pacing 'round a hotel room
Haven't felt warm weather since I left last June, like
Why it always gotta be about you?
Get a little Henny in me, I'ma speak my truth, like

I know this gotta end bad for us
Fuck all the questions they had for us
I don't wanna be the one to blame

I can't keep crying over (Crying over)
Dying over (Dying over)
Something that just don't seem right
I can't keep fighting over (Fighting over)
Hiding over (Hiding over)
I wish you would pick my side
I can't keep crying over (Crying over)
Dying over (Dying over)
Something that just don't seem right
I can't keep fighting over (Fighting over)
Hiding over (Hiding over)
I wish you would pick my side

Something that just don't seem right
I can't keep—
I wish you would pick my side

Got off the plane, trying to hide my face
Even in another city, no, this shit won't change
Couple people tried to pick my brain
I promise you it only left me halfway sane
Oh, I'll never be a novice
Making predictions I would fall from the pop shit
There ain't a force in the world that can stop this
I could buy a bag for every girl that said I'm not shit

You wanna lock in, it's the wrong time
I can't put all of my trust in a hotline
Guess that's why most of my life has been online

I can't keep crying over (Crying over)
Dying over (Dying over)
Something that just don't seem right
I can't keep fighting over (Fighting over)
Hiding over (Hiding over)
I wish you would pick my side

I can't keep crying over (Crying over)
Dying over (Dying over)
Something that just don't seem right
I can't keep fighting over (Fighting over)
Hiding over (Hiding over)
I wish you would pick my side
