

RightAway

ericdoa

I need you right away, wash me like a tidal wave
I walk in pieces, baby, honest, I'ma find a way
I'll tell you that I feel alright, but baby, I am not okay
Always think 'bout something else, and all the shit that you ju st didn't say
I need you right away, wash me like a tidal wave
I walk in pieces, baby, honest, I'ma find a way
I'll tell you that I feel alright, but baby, I am not okay
Always think 'bout something else, and all the shit that you ju
st didn't say

Try to expend my issues, can't help from going blank
I understand that there's some things that I still have to chan ge
Where is the moment you leave? It doesn't matter to me Right next to you, but in your arms is where I'd rather be
But I can't understand it Can't help from feeling damaged
I try my best to manage
And when I'm by myself, my problems, they just seem to vanish
It's just so hard to believe Stressed out, you wanna believe
Proud of the things I achieve, but I still feel incomplete Say it's okay to cry, don't know how hard I've tried Remaining question in my brain is just to ask you "Why?"
So many things going wrong, just hope that I get it right
I know things fall into they places in a different life

I need you right away, wash me like a tidal wave
I walk in pieces, baby, honest, I'ma find a way
I'll tell you that I feel alright, but baby, I am not okay
Always think 'bout something else, and all the shit that you ju
st didn't say
I need you right away, wash me like a tidal wave
I walk in pieces, baby, honest, I'ma find a way
I'll tell you that I feel alright, but baby, I am not okay
Always think 'bout something else, and all the shit that you ju
