

Target (Interlude)

ericdoa

I feel like a target
I'm a public target
I like to, turn myself into a target
Public target
I don't know
I-I really don't know
I'd rather have myself feel their pain than others
It's not something that I-
Public target
-for myself, it's something that fucking happened
This is for anybody that feels like a target
Like they walk around with a target on their back
To take every attack, to feel as one day, when you die
You receive the same love back
Public target
My name is Chach and I'm a public target
My name is Trill Laimbeer, and I'm a public target
My name is Steph, and I'm a public target
My name is Shelby and I'm a public target
My name is Angelus, I'm a public target
My name is Dana, and I'm a public target
My name is David, and I'm a public target
My name is Olivia, and I am a public target
My name is Nyla, and I'm a public target
One day, we'll find a way to live together in harmony
And hatred, be a thing of the past
And if you will disappear then love will figure it out
But for now, I'll remain a target
