

Lullaby In Three/Four

Erin McKeown

There ain't never been a lullaby, sound so sweet to me
There ain't never been a song I sung so easily
Goodbye my life
Goodbye my life
Goodnight I sing to me

There ain't never been a song fill your soul with such sweet sweet refrain
Do you hear it now?
It's the sound of your life waking new life to verse again
Goodbye my life
Goodbye my life
Goodnight I sing to me

Now don't you weep for the life that you've left, left behind
It sleeps quietly now, safe in this evening time
You're full and warm again with the love you had long, long ago
So close your eyes
You won't awake to anything you didn't already know
But may that night be long
May that night be long
In the morning you'll wake to you
