

Glimpse

Erra

A free fall eclipsing a wish that has slipped away
Second-guess words masked in nerve
From a frail lie desensitized
Tear my insides warm from their inner space
Condemned in the womb
My flaws embalm my heart in a bodied tomb

A floating empty vessel
A resonant voice celestial
The fall is everlasting
A child led, ghosts surrounding

A glimpse of energy is filtering through
Left drifting infinite

Find the first light paling the other states
A lifelong trial
An existential chimera born from a paradox

Oxygen is running thin
I'll fall through the clouds

I'll fall through the clouds

A floating empty vessel
A resonant voice celestial
The fall is everlasting
A child led, ghosts surrounding

A floating empty vessel
A resonant voice celestial
The fall is everlasting
A child led, ghosts surrounding

A resonant voice celestial
