

Wave

Erra

Spirit projected to devolve
Endless delusions of the soul
Time will leave us with nothing here to grow
There is no one left inside this hole

Breaking the day the sun didn't rise
The world is left to flail in the tide

I'm caught in a wave
Deep in the iridescent haze
Shimmering in the gray
Living for yesterday
Wishing we had stayed

There's no one left inside this hole

In the least familiar places
Longing for the smallest things
A rumor of a destination
That I seek to never find

Spirit projected to devolve
Endless delusions of the soul
A dream about a life
And a final midnight

Breaking the day the sun didn't rise
The world is left to flail in the tide

Left shaking in the cold
I'll never think twice again
I'm caught in a wave
Deep in the iridescent haze
Shimmering in the gray

I'm caught in a wave
Deep in the iridescent haze
Shimmering in the gray
Living for yesterday
Wishing we had stayed

Colorize
Flooding out the deeper hues
Come alive
To emerge to feel the sunshine

Flooding out the deeper hues
Come alive

I'm caught in a wave
Flooding out the deeper hues of life
I'm caught in a wave
Waking up to feel the sunshine