

Traumatized

Escape the Fate

Don't go looking for what you don't wanna find
There's a reason that you left it all behind
I've got secrets hiding between the lines
Don't go looking, it'll leave you traumatized

Don't pull back the screen, don't want you to see
Afraid that you'll judge me
It's not what it seems, if you knew everything
I'm scared you won't love me

Trust me, babe
It's better you don't know
Leave it alone
Some doors are better off left closed

Don't go looking for what you don't wanna find
There's a reason that you left it all behind
I've got secrets hiding between the lines
Don't go looking, it'll leave you traumatized (Traumatized)

I'll spare you the mess
I had to forget in order to function
You won't let it go
But the answer is no
So save all your assumptions

Trust me, babe, it's better you don't know
Leave it alone, some doors are better off left closed

Don't go looking for what you don't wanna find
There's a reason that you left it all behind
I've got secrets hiding between the lines
Don't go looking, it'll leave you traumatized

Underneath all the cracks is a nightmare
And I've been holding back 'cause it's not fair
To unload all my fault
All the pain that was caused
Leave the past in the past, keep it locked there

Don't pull back the screen, don't want you to see
Afraid that you'll judge me

Don't go looking for what you don't wanna find
There's a reason that you left it all behind
I've got secrets hiding between the lines
Don't go looking, it'll leave you traumatized
