Trying to tear me apart,
Breaking me down to the bone
So listen closely,
'Cause what you don't see
Is there's still blood inside this beating heart

Still bleeding,
Still waiting
Falling from grace,
You laugh in my face
But you are the one who will leave with the beating

With bleeding hands I fight for a life that's beat me down Stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a so und

Rising again from the fire, A Phoenix alive and inspired You can't erase me, won't even faze me No one hears a fucking word you say

Still bleeding,
Still waiting
Falling from grace,
You laugh in my face
But you are the one who will leave with the beating

With bleeding hands I fight for a life that's beat me down Stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a so und

With bleeding hands I fight with the pride left in me now Stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a so und

Stand and scream (4x)

With bleeding hands I fight for a life that's beat me down Stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a so und

With bleeding hands I fight with the pride left in me now Stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a so und

With bleeding hands, with bleeding hands, We stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a sound Stand and scream (4x)
