

Face in the River

Escape With Romeo

Life is pointless without someone to love even in the strangest moments I just can't get enough I wake up in the afternoon ignore the fairies call inside I'm so touched by your beauty you can have it all

I can see your face in the river but the river is deep and wild I want to jump into your loving arms just like a homeless child

Time is running even in paradise you just lie there painless and close your eyes there's a need for hunger there's a need for thirst in this volcano of emotion I just want to burst

I can see....

Radiovoice :

Another dead body found in the river it isn't clear yet if it's another suicide or a murder case police starts another investigation

I can see his face in the river
but the river is deep and wild I see the cry for help in his loving eyes
just like a homeless child homeless child
