Esham

Now how can I explain the game?
See, what they miss and what they lackin' is
The flow, so let me tell you about this mackin' miss
And yo, you got me thinkin' 'bout that gluten free
Baby, what you do to me thinkin' 'bout buyin' you jewelry
Oh no, organic, you're so organic
Your love is connected to everything on the planet
My homies don't understand it, don't take her for granted
Put a ring on and get a wedding planner to plan it
Oh no, organic, you're so organic
I like it fresh-squeezed and never out of the can it
So fresh and so clean, call me Pinot Grigio
Lived the hard knock life but I make it look easy though
All natural liberal, man, she heard I'm conservative
And fatigues at the airport, they think me from the services
I was diggin' her style, she was doin' her thing
We was up in the clouds, she was flappin' her wings
Oh no, organic, you're so organic
That way she move that rhythm
Nation would've swore she was Janet
I said oh no, organic, you're so organic
In the produce section in the supermarket I rammed it
Then I cranberry jammed it, we was makin' a smoothie
And I'm startin' to believe in, most these rappers is vegans
