

Prism

Electric Callboy

You are so special but so insecure
With all of the struggles
You had to endure
You are a light caught in a prism

All of your dreams you have buried inside
Are just a flame that you need to ignite
Wait for the light
That hits your prism

Cause you know
Before you rise you need to fall
Before you rise you see it all
And nothing will be holding you down
You're exceptional (exceptional)
Stop trying to fit into the masses
The time is now So take your chances
You're exceptional (exceptional)

You are so special and now you're so pure
Below your surface you found so much more
Now you're the light
Inside the prism

Pass on this world
Build a new one on your own
Facing the edge
Push yourself far beyond 'cause
Now you're the light inside the prism
(Now you're the light inside the prism)

Cause you know
Before you rise you need to fall
Before you rise you see it all
And nothing will be holding you down
You're exceptional (exceptional)
Stop trying to fit into the masses
The time is now
So take your chances
You're exceptional (exceptional)

And now you know, now you know
That you will never back down
Don't become your own biggest enemy
Cure the sickness, you are the remedy

And now you know, now you know
That you will never back down
Don't become your own biggest enemy
Cure the sickness, you are the remedy

Cause you know
Before you rise you need to fall
Before you rise you see it all
And nothing will be holding you down
You're exceptional (exceptional)
Stop trying to fit into the masses

The time is now
So take your chances
You're exceptional (exceptional)

You're exceptional (exceptional)
