

Drowning In The Fear

Eskimo Joe

Just last night I felt a fright
Like a thousand arms were holding on to tight
I tried to reach for you
My hands were closed but you fell right through

And I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away
Well, I'm calling, can you hear?
And I'm drowning in the fear
It's pulling me under,

I'm drowning in the fear
Drowning in the fear

Just last night I felt so scared
Like a thousand armies marching for the dead
I tried to find my way
Back to the place where I could make you stay

And I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away
Well, I'm calling, can you hear?
And I'm drowning in the fear
It's pulling me under,

I'm drowning in the fear
Drowning in the fear
And I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away,
I'm drowning in the fear

And I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away from me
Well, I'm going under here
And I'm calling, can you,
Don't look now, 'cause it's pulling me under,

I'm drowning in the fear
Drowning in the fear
And I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away,
I'm drowning in the fear
