Now Know

Esperanza Spalding

You're opening
That girdle would round your cork of champagne
Ooh, open looks good on you

You're pouring into the mouth of a sober taboo
Truth slurring right out of you
And whoever you've half been

Becomes full
To the brim of your crystal well
You rise, a solution of seasoned light

Your sun plexus an eye
Drinking in the divine
It's clear now
You're a beautiful vision now
Appear
You're a beautiful vision now
Appear

You're softening
Into a smile of the silently known
Ooh, open looks good on you

You're opening
Our lids of clay blinking round the unseen
Ooh... tell me everything...

Your bubbling realness has unfurled
To the brim of your crystal well
All rise their solutions of flesh and light

To your sparkling eye
Drinking in the divine
It's clear now
You're a beautiful vision now
Appear
You're a beautiful vision now
Appear

It's clear now
You're a beautiful vision now
Appear
You're a beautiful vision now
Appear
