

Someplace Called "Where"

Esperanza Spalding

A promise together forever
Two lovers falling sweetly caught by passion
And wanting more

One vision one heartbeat
One rhythm one touch that softly
Leads to sweet surrender and two
And two hearts soar

Can two dreams reach further than one
Would venture
Grasping holding ever yearning to touch the sun

Striving for no ending to see what we're born to be Love gave this fateful journey that we would ever see
Though the darkness
Too the light within some place called where
