

Golden Touch

Essosa

Golden touch
Oh he knows too much now
It's just a rush, yeah
They want his touch

I started feeling the blues
So I thought I needed a crew, oh
I met him and it was all so smooth
He kissed me and I started to swoon

The way he moves across the floor
They only leave him wanting more
It's like a player on a stage
Cause they all crave

His golden touch
A man who knows too much
It's just a rush
To want his golden touch
His golden touch
A man who knows too much
It's just a rush
To want his golden touch
They want his touch

Golden touch
Oh he knows too much now
It's just a rush, yeah
They want his touch

Oh, the way he moves across the floor
They only leave him wanting more
It's like a player on a stage
Cause they all crave

His golden touch
A man who knows too much
It's just a rush
To want his golden touch
His golden touch
A man who knows too much
It's just a rush
To want his golden touch
They want his touch
