

Friends

E^ST

My friend, you've been looking so tired
Say you're fine, but I know that you're lying
Why don't you walk a little bit with me
My friend, you've been looking so angry
Don't know what the fuck is been happening
Why don't you talk a little shit with me

Oh we're just human beings
Not good at being good at things
Unsure of what the future brings us
But at least there's you and me
We're mindless dreamers, madly team
To face the shit we dream of

We can build it brick by brick
Taking life an inch by inch
I can help you fix your shit
I know we'll still be friends
Life ain't always roses but
Even when the road gets rough
You'll never have to face too much
Alone

My friend, you've been looking so weary
You say you're fine, but I know you're not clearly
Why don't you breathe a little bit with me
I don't know what's going on
But I know that something's wrong
Why don't you put a little faith in me

Oh we're just human beings
Not good at being good at things
Unsure of what the future brings us
But at least there's you and me
We're mindless dreamers, madly team
To face the shit we dream of

We can build it brick by brick
Taking life an inch by inch
I can help you fix your shit
I know we'll still be friends
Life ain't always roses but
Even when the road gets rough
You'll never have to face too much
Alone

And I know you got friends
And they're treating you well
You don't need to pretend
You can lean on me or someone else
And I know you got strength
You can handle yourself
And it's easier when
You can lean on me or someone else

My friend, you've been looking so tired
Say you're fine, but I know that you're lying

Why don't you walk a little bit with me
My friend, you've been looking so angry
Don't know what the fuck is been happening
Why don't you talk a little shit with me