

arsonists

Ethan Bortnick

Something about you already hurts
Already know we will crash and burn
I know you've been holding back

You feel familiar in all of the worst ways
You're double booked on Valentine's day
I know you'll never want me back the same way

That I do
That I do
I know you
Better than you

Here's to us being left in the dust
And a cycle we can't break
Here's to us being left in the dust
I just can't go back that way
Oh I'd kill to be an arsonist
And burn bridges without shame
You flipped a coin
I'm second choice

You spilled your guts on the counter
While I cooked whatever you wanted
Bitter deja vu, guess it didn't matter anyway

Fuck this, no one to blame but myself
You're doing exactly what I would do
Everyone's a hypocrite

I know you
Better than you
I know you
Better than you

And a cycle we can't break
Here's to us being left in the dust
I just can't go back that way
Oh I'd kill to be an arsonist
To burn bridges without shame
You flipped a coin
I'm second choice
