

deadly ever after

Ethan Bortnick

You could never look me in the face
And say it's a disaster
Look at all that shit in our wake
Deadly ever after

Wish I heard it sooner than I did
The misery in your laughter
You grew up in survival mode
I gave you something you were owed

I'm in a war that you started
We're already broken-hearted
Wherever it goes, wherever it goes, wherever it goes

Dead in the eyes and you're guarded
Time couldn't heal this scarring
Wherever it goes, wherever it goes, anything goes

Swimming to the bottom in a race
And drowning on the way down
Haunted by the silence in your place
What do you really need now?
(Do you really need now?)

You say it takes more than slamming the door
Stop making me prove I've nothing to lose
I love you, but you can't be loved
Obsessed with drawing your own blood

I'm in a war that you started
We're already broken-hearted
Wherever it goes, wherever it goes, wherever it goes

Dead in the eyes and you're guarded
Time couldn't heal this scarring
Wherever it goes, wherever it goes, anything goes

Wherever it goes, wherever it goes, wherever it goes...

I'm in a war that you started
We're already broken-hearted
Wherever it goes, wherever it goes

Dead in the eyes and you're guarded
Time couldn't heal this scarring
Wherever it goes, wherever it goes, anything goes

Wherever it goes, wherever it goes, wherever it goes
Wherever it goes, wherever it goes
Wherever it goes, wherever it goes, anything goes
