

start

Ethan Bortnick

I've no fear of growing older
But, I don't know who I am when we part
And I don't know how to tell you
I don't know where to start

The only home I know is where you are
Crank the sound of the TV on, in the dark
To drown out the silence in my heart
I don't, I don't wanna start again

I don't
I don't
I don't wanna start again
I don't
I don't
I don't wanna start again

Growing close was not a mistake
But, we won't know who we are when we part
The only comfort is, you feel the same
When I'm lost, I wanna shout your name

The only home I know is where you are
Crank the sound of the TV on, in the dark
To drown out the silence in my heart
I don't, I don't wanna start again

I don't
I don't
I don't wanna start again
I don't
I don't
I don't wanna start again

How are you gonna pick me up when you're not around
Oh, how are you gonna pick me up when you're not around

The only home I know is where you are
Crank the sound of the TV on, in the dark
To drown out the silence in my heart
I don't, I don't wanna start again

I don't
I don't
I don't wanna start again
I don't
I don't
I don't wanna start again

I don't
I don't
I don't wanna start again
I don't
(I'm tryna sing to you, oh)
I don't

What am I gonna do?
Prisoned in black balloons
How am I gonna get through?
Sheltered me from hard truths
Nothin' means more to me than you
