Euringer

Oh, try to break me down

You fucking lunatic, why don't you just let me go

Railroad me with this bullshit that ain't my problem

When are you gonna learn

No pretty metaphor is never gonna change my mind

Paranoia, is hidden behind your eyes

We gambled and we lost

Watching the universe crumbling around my hands

They tell you that everyone, says it but they won't tell you ho w

Our imaginary friends

Your only problem is that you want to be my real friend

You walk like a prisoner in the prison of your own demise

Some shit that you say, you can never, ever, take it back

Don't you know that I'm using you, to get with you (be best friends)

You fucking lunatic, why don't you just let me go

Instead, you railroaded me, with this bullshit that ain't my problem
