

Reason

Europe

And everybody will get to play
The hand they're given
And everybody will deserve
The space they live in

And everybody will get to feel
Some peace within
And everybody will get Someone to walk with

'Cause there must be a reason
Why you're keepin' me alive
On broken days like this
There must be a reason
A hope that God exist

And everybody will lead a life
They feel will matter
And everybody will know such a simple thing
Like laughter

'Cause there must be a reason
Why you're keepin' me alive
On broken days like this
There must be a reason
A hope that God exist

The fear is gone
There's place where everybody goes
After all the feelings show
There's a secret everybody knows

After all the fear is gone
There's place where everybody goes
After all the feelings show
There's a secret everybody knows

Yeah, there must be a reason
Why you're keepin' me alive
On broken days like this
There must be a reason
A hope that God exist

Yeah, there must be a reason
Why you're keepin' me alive
On broken days like this
There must be a reason
A hope that God exist
