

Can't Do This No More

Evan Honer

Well I kept the notes that you wrote for me
And I read between the lines to see
That your intentions were to bring out the worst in me
And I redefine what you call love
Is it just a deadly drug?
Is what we had true?
Or was it a waste of time?

And you came to me with evil eyes
I'd been beaten down several times
So I fell for you and all of your God damn lies

'Cause I can't do this no more
Can't love you no more
One sunrise away
From my downfall
And take my cents and dimes
Take all that you find
Soon realise
That you burned it all

Well you paint the picture far too well
Hide behind the lies you tell
How could I not know before that
An angel's smile leaves a hell of a burn
Your bedside bible pages don't turn
Your flawless reputation
Can't be restored

'Cause I can't do this no more
Can't love you no more
One sunrise away
From my downfall
And take my cents and dimes
Take all that you find
Soon realise
That you burned it all

Oh, you burned it all
You burned it all
You burned it all

Well I kept the notes that you wrote for me
And I read between the lines to see
That your intentions were to bring out the worst in me

Now I, I can't do this no more
I can't love you no more
One sunrise away
From my downfall
And take my cents and dimes
Take all that you find
Soon realise
That you burned it all
