

Greetings From Tulsa, Oklahoma

Evan Honer

Well I've been piecing it together every word I said to sever
The only good that I had ever found
While I'm only getting older it seems that you got closure
But I'm kind of hoping that he lets you down

Greetings from Tulsa, Oklahoma. I know were not speaking
But you missed the show in Arizona said forever
Now it's something we can't defend I wrote twenty letters
That we both know I'll never send

Well I don't say it out of anger just getting used to us being strangers
And finally realizing that you'll never call
Well I'm on the road like a promised I get everything that I wanted
Lost the only person to catch me if I fall

Greetings from Tulsa, Oklahoma. I know were not speaking
But you missed the show in Arizona said forever
Now it's something we can't defend I wrote twenty letters
That we both know I'll never send

I'm falling further away from you
I hardly know you
I hardly you anymore but

Greetings from Tulsa, Oklahoma. I know were not speaking
But you missed the show in Arizona said forever
Now it's something we can't defend I wrote twenty letters
That we both know I'll never send
