

Someone You Don't Know

Evan Honer

There's a breeze through my window
And outside looks lonely
California in December
Is anything but snowing
You would've liked the weather here
But hated the traffic
You would have loved Manhattan Pier
I guess I'll just imagine
How it would be if you came with me
And all the things I'd do differently

It ain't anyone's fault but mine now that you're gone
I'll spend the weekends wondering if I was wrong
How does someone go from being your everything
To someone you don't know
How does it go from raining endlessly
To a city filled up with smoke

I'm rolling up my windows
Cause outside it's snowing
Virginia is for lovers
At least that's what they told me
Do you miss the rolling hills
Do you miss me calling your name
If I had to guess you had your fill
Of this town and the man you became

It ain't anyone's fault but mine now that you're gone
I'll spend my weekends wondering if I was wrong
How does someone go from being your everything
To someone you don't know
How does it go from raining endlessly
To a city filled up with smoke

It ain't anyone's fault but mine now that you're gone
I'll spend my weekends wondering if I was wrong
How does someone go from being your everything
To someone you don't know
How does it go from raining endlessly
To a city filled up with smoke
