You, straighten up your shoulders
And get up
Look at the world outside the window

That's been trapping and hiding you
I wanna draw the rainbow you
On a white canvas

It's time to wake up from your dream
Be excited for the dazzling days ahead
Draw yourself out the way you dreamed it
It's time to face a you
That you've never known before

Waited for this moment
Heart's pounding
Shout out louder, say
You're ready, you're ready

Everything everything
You gotta want my everything
Everything everything
You gotta want my everything
I'm the light to wake you up
Bon bon chocolat go up to the sky

Nananana

Nananana

You'll need to be alert
Each place is different
Turn up the miracles you made
With your small wings
You drew it out every night
Your sweet dream, always

At the end of the endless tunnel
Be excited for the world that's been hidden for you
Follow the even more dazzling light
And fly high baby
That's you, babe

Waited for this moment
Heart's pounding
Shout out louder, say
You're ready, you're ready

Everything everything
You gotta want my everything
Everything everything
You gotta want my everything
I'm the light to wake you up
Bon bon chocolat go up to the sky

Nananana
Bon bon chocolat
Nananana

Can you feel it? When the beautiful sunlight
Spills out like a sweet dream
The light will get closer, the dreams will get hotter
Let's be together, remember always, forever

Hoo no no whoa oh

Waited for this moment

Everything everything
You gotta want my everything
You gotta want my everything
I'm the light to wake you up
