

Falling From The Sun

Evergrey

We used to dream of a brighter future
And all this darkness was someone else's
We used feel something
Used to believe in something
But now it seems like
No-one can save us

Falling from the sun
Falling one by one
We fall into the sea where the forsaken swim
We were burnt by the sun
Burnt one by one
If these waves keep crashing in
We let the darkness win

Paint your skies with hopes and drown what kills your dreams
And no matter how hard it seems
Keep on dreaming don't stop believing
Don't stop believing or no-one can save us

Falling from the sun
Falling one by one
We fall into the sea where the forsaken swim
We were burnt by the sun
Burnt one by one
If these waves keep crashing in
We let the darkness win

So you keep stretching
Just reach for something
Can't let these waves prevent you from moving
The time will come, our sun will rise again
We need to keep out the cold to keep on dreaming

Fallen from the sun
We fall one by one
We need to wake some ways to feel
Or keep on falling

Falling from the sun
Falling one by one
We fall into the sea where the forsaken swim
We were burnt by the sun
Burnt one by one
If these waves keep crashing in
We let the darkness win

Falling from the sun
Falling one by one
We fall into the sea where the forsaken swim
We were burnt by the sun
Burnt one by one
