

Will It Be Enough

Everlife

What if all we got is what we've got
No turning tide, no money, no lights
Will it be enough
What if all we do is this small thing
Light up a few worlds as we sing
Don't let go
Will it be enough,
Enough

I wake up and wanna give up
I wake up and wanna run
I don't wanna fight with you anymore
What if all we do is keep our heads
Right above the water
Hold your breath
Will it be enough
For you to love me?

So many have said we don't make sense
Tried to figure out just where we fit
It's funny, cuz we never know what's next
I don't really care what they come up with
Only ever cared 'bout you and me
And I'm okay with that
I'm okay with that
Will it be enough,
Enough

I wake up and wanna give up
I wake up and wanna run
I don't wanna fight with you anymore
What if all we do is keep our heads
Hold your breath
Will it be enough
For you to love me?

I wanna be around
'Til the lines around your eyes
Tell the story of our lives
And it might just be my dream
To see that forever together
Has always been enough
God I hope that it's enough

I don't really wanna give up
I never really ever run
We don't have to fight anymore
What if all we do is keep our heads
Hold your breath
It's always been enough
For me to love you.
