

Dying Light

Everyone Dies In Utah

Is this a dream
I lay awake for hours
Bring me back again
To a day where life had no end
Day after day I could sit in here for weeks
I'm losing my mind I can't hear my thoughts speak
I'm screaming so loud I can feel my lungs bleed
I can't take no more I just want to be freed
I'm trying to search for something more
Pick up the pieces to open the door
I'm wide-awake
I'm wide-awake
Don't close your eyes this is yours to take

We're gonna find a way
It's just another day
Looking back I've crossed a line
I've reached a wall and I've fallen behind
A twist of fate
I'm losing faith tonight

Broken
I start choking on my words
Is this a game that I never expected
Piece of a life I've never connected

And to be truly alive I feel it's all just out of sight
I'm trying to search for something more
Pick up the pieces to open the door
I'm wide-awake
I'm wide-awake
Don't close your eyes this is yours to take

We're gonna find a way
It's just another day
Looking back I've crossed a line
I've reached a wall and I've fallen behind
A twist of fate
I'm losing faith tonight

Is this a dream
I lay awake for hours
I'm awake
I'm awake
Bring me back again
To a day where life had no end

We're gonna find a way
It's just another day
Looking back I've crossed a line
I've reached a wall and I've fallen behind
A twist of fate
