Blame

Everything But the Girl

I know I wasn't good Maybe I was even bad But I was way too young To know just what I had

And if I let you down Now I let you go But I was so young And now it's all gone

I'm the one to blame I'm the one to blame

You must never think I wish that you had stayed Look at where we are I'm glad you got away

But who's your daddy now And where's your home? You're living somewhere new D'you think he'd take me too?

I'm the one to blame I'm the one to blame

I'm the one to blame I'm the one to blame

Blame Blame

Now you forgot the words Please don't forget your name And who gave that to you? Well, that was me again

Who let you down and loved you? That was me again And who's the one to blame? That was me again

I'm the one to blame I let you down and loved you?

I'm the one to blame Blame Blame

I'm the one to blame Blame
