

Put Me Together

Everything Everything

Why do you look so old?
Was it something that I said?
Funny to think of me
Just as you're leaving

And there's somebody washing the car
And there's somebody watching the children
But they're nothing like you and me
They're nothing like you and me
They celebrate all of the same days
And you see them out doing the garden
But they're nothing like you and me
They're nothing like you and me

Why does it always end
With a total goodbye
Give me a replay
I can work harder

And there's somebody washing the car
And there's somebody watching the children
But they're nothing like you and me
They're nothing like you and me
They celebrate all of the same days
And you see them out doing the garden
But they're nothing like you and me
They're nothing like you and me

And I turn to look out of the window
And the they're staring right through me and I know
That they never lived there at all
They never were there at all
Never were there at all

What do you mean you don't know me?

I've been sleeping
I've been sleeping

Is it the darkest night?
Or is that dawn in your eyes?
Pull me apart and
Put me together

And there's somebody washing the car
And there's somebody watching the children
But they're nothing like you and me
They're nothing like you and me
And they celebrate all of the same days
You see them out doing the garden
But they're nothing like you and me
They're nothing like you and me

They're nothing like you and me

What do you mean you don't know me?

I've been sleeping
I'm never leaving
I'm never leaving
I'm never leaving
