

Zero Pharoah

Everything Everything

You tell me there's a pharaoh in town
And now the time is gone out the doors
They tell me he's a household name
Only no one has a house anymore

They tell me there's a way to cheat death
And how you let him do it at once
I bet you say he never does wrong
I don't why you say it so much

If all your children made it out alive
Then why would you ever go back
Take you pharaoh and put him in the black suck
Why don't you take for yourself

You're living in an overturned boat
You're waiting for the ladder to come
But every time you try to give blood
You somehow end up sinking it in

If all your children made it out alive
Then why would you ever go back
Take you pharaoh and put him in the black suck
Why don't you take for yourself

Why don't you smash him all up
Give me the gun...
With all these riches, put it at your god's feet
Why would ever say no, when would you ever say no
All this fantage? Wondering round with no phones
Why would ever say no, when would you ever say no
With all those people laying down their whole lives
Why would ever say no, when would you ever say no
Break your pharaoh and throw him in the red sea
I'm gonna do it myself!
