Couch

Eves Karydas

So what am I gon' do bout you?
Can honesty bless me the way I want it to?
I'm suspicious
So I gotta tell you, yeah, I gotta tell you
Something tonight makes me ambitious

'Cause I've known you for the longest time
And, yes, I have doubts if I should cross that line

He's on my couch, I'm watching his mouth
This is all I see now, watching his
He's on my couch, I'm watching his mouth
That is all I see now, watching his mouth

See, I've been tapered 'round the chest
And I've been tentative to test how far I have to breaking point
But I've gotta tell you, yeah, I've gotta tell you
Something tonight makes me ambitious

'Cause I've known you for the longest time
And, yes, I want to cross that line

He's on my couch, I'm watching his mouth
This is all I see now, watching his
He's on my couch, I'm watching his mouth
That is all I see now, watching his
He's on my couch, I'm watching his mouth
This is all I see now, watching his
He's on my couch, I'm watching his mouth
That is all I see now, watching his mouth

Blue visions clash up my higher places
My witness says I'm not meant to face it
I've known you so long, long-lost
And the long lines that have me are fading soft

He's on my couch, I'm watching his mouth
This is all I see now, watching his
He's on my couch, I'm watching his mouth
That is all I see now, watching his
He's on my couch, I'm watching his mouth
This is all I need now, watching his
He's on my couch, I'm watching his mouth
That is all I see now, watching his mouth

(This is all I need now)
(This is all I need now, now)
