{"A-B, b-boys rock the world" – [Mos Def]}
Uh, from the basement floor
Bob Dylan heard it (Knockin on Heaven's Door) (knock knockin on)
From across the room to when I'm out on tour
Reminds me of a time when my life was pure (y'know – it's crazy)
It finds me at the oddest moments (crazy)
Tried to focus but end up zonin..
I go back, but the caption's closing
So cold, but the clock ain't frozen

Joy.. and pain...
It's like sunshine... and rain..
{"Let's get it together, no matter the weather"}
Joy.. (oooh) and pain.. (ooooh)
It's like sunshine.. (sunshine) and rain..
{"Rain or shine, yes in any weather"}

It was something, December babies
As Christmas came, we had our birthdays lumped in
Layaway, one present, two holidays
Seen it from a mile away, you can't lie to your kids
I guess that makes up for no bros and sisters (no)
Nothing's ever missin in the kitchen (no!)
Nothing, ever really went wrong (crazy)
Until the one that raised me was the one that's gone
It's funny how strength comes in different forms
Some embrace they faith, others weather storms
Others tell themself that the pain moves on
I saw the clouds move in and when it did, they poured
I push away the pain, it's the sun and the rain
Rain or shine, I got my umbrella
I said it's none better, I'ma see you a-gain
It's worth to listen to woman's worth, it's worth everything
